CALLES WANTS MUNITIONS BAN TO BE LIFTED

Sonora Commander Preparing Petition for Temporary Relief; Campaign Against Yaquis Given as Reason.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE) — Douglas, Ariz., May 18.—General Elias Calles, commander-in-chief of the de facto Mexican forces in Sonora, is reported among his close friends to be preparing to petition the United States government to lift the embargo on war munitions for a short time, on the plea that the troops in the Yaqui river valley need cartridges and artillery shells.

It is admitted that the army in the northern part of Sonora has a large reserve of cartridges and shells for artillery, but only evasive answers are returned by the Mexican military to the question why some of this store is not sent to the Yaqui expedition.

Ivan G. Lelevier, de facto Mexican consul here, denied today that General Arnulfo Gomez and 5,000 soldiers would be sent to the Yaqui valley as a result of the renewed outbreak of the Yaquis. He said that with more than 10,000 soldiers actively engaged in the campaign, there is no need for reinforcements at the present time.

OFFER INDUCEMENTS TO EMPLOYEES WHO ENLIST

Douglas, Ariz., May 18.—The Copper Queen Consolidated Mining company and Calumet & Arizona Mining company, owning mines in Bisbee and Phoenix, here, announced through their management today that any of their employees enlisting in the arsenal guard would be paid full time for thirty days. While they will not be paid after that period, their positions will be held for them whenever they are freed from duty.

Capt. S. J. Morris, medical corps, military inspector and medical officer for the guardsmen, began today inculcating the men, company by company, for typhoid fever and vaccinating them for smallpox. Many of the men who had not been vaccinated were given one treatment on one arm and the second in the other one.

Recruiting agents will begin an active campaign throughout Cochise county, in which Douglas is situated, Saturday. Even the smallest settlements will be visited in an effort to swell the ranks of the guard to war

TWO BISHOPS ARE CHOSEN BY METHODISTS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE) — Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 18.—Two new bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church were chosen tonight by the general conference after three days of balloting. They are Dr. Herbert Welch, president of Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, O., and Dr. Thomas Nicholson, of New York City, secretary of the church board of education. The election of Dr. Welch came on the eighth ballot and that of Dr. Nicholson on the ninth ballot. Each is 54 years old.

Although the deadlock which has existed since Tuesday was broken by the selection of the two bishops, two remain to be chosen. Dr. Nicholson received 533 votes, or 21 more than was necessary for a choice. None of the others made large gains, the vote being about the same as earlier in the day.

ADMINISTRATION LOSES FIGHT FOR FIVE-YEAR PLAN

Naval Appropriation Bill Is Completed After Long Deadlock Without Wilson's Pet Provision.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE) — Washington, May 18.—Administration forces in congress lost the first skirmish in the naval preparedness campaign today when the house committee broke a five-day deadlock and completed the naval appropriation without approving the five-year building program advocated by President Wilson and Secretary Daniels.

As finally agreed to the bill authorizes the construction in 1917 of five battle cruisers, as against two dreadnaughts and two battle cruisers recommended by Secretary Daniels; four scout cruisers, an increase of one scout over the department's program; ten destroyers as against fifteen recommended; twenty submarines, three to be 800-ton boats, compared with five fleet and twenty-five coast defense submarines recommended; one hospital ship, one oil fuel supply ship and one ammunition ship. The gunboat recommended was stricken out and the fuel and ammunition ships were added from Secretary Daniels' program for the second year.

Largest Naval Appropriation.

The total amount carried by the bill is $240,000,000, the largest naval appropriation ever presented to congress. While the appropriation proposed is, if made, an increase over the department's plans, failure of the five-year program and the fact that no dreadnaughts were provided for, make the bill unsatisfactory to administration officials.

House and navy officials are confident that the final bill will provide for at least two battleships and four battle cruisers.

Deadlock Follows Caucus.

The deadlock in the house committee followed a caucus of the eight republican members of the committee at which it was decided to oppose the five-year program and also to seek to increase the 1917 appropriations over the figure suggested by the department. Five of the thirteen democrats not only opposed the continuing program, but also were determined to cut down the 1917 estimates and not to vote for any battleship appropriation. They were willing to support a four-battle-cruiser program, however, and the final compromise was effected by Chairman Padgett with Representative Hensley of Missouri, a leader of the opposition. The democrats, who induced the other four to join him in agreeing to the five-battle-cruiser program.

Section for Peace Conference.

To meet this concession Chairman Padgett was compelled to abandon the five-year program and it was not brought to a vote in the committee, as it was certain of defeat if the republicans and "little navy" democrats combined. He was also forced to accept a provision by Representative Hensley authorizing the president to call a conference of world powers at the conclusion of the European war to draw plans to form an international peace tribunal. An appropriation of $200,000 for this purpose is carried in the section, which was adopted unanimously. It would authorize the president to appoint nine officers distinguished as lawyers and peace advocates to represent the United States.

The compromise building program was carried by the solid democratic vote of the committee and against the solid republican membership.

WARDEN OF STATE REFORMATORY IS FACING CHARGES

Colorado Official Charged With Neglect of Duty, Malfeasance in Office and Incompetency.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE) — Denver, May 18.—Specific charges of alleged misconduct were contained in a second notice served today on M. P. Capp, warden of the state reformatory at Pueblo, by Gov. George A. Carlson, commanding him to appear at his office at 10 o'clock next Monday to show cause why he should not be removed from office.

After making the general charge of "neglect of duty, malfeasance in office and incompetency," the complaint recites:

That Capp permitted inmates at various times to escape, and sent an inmate to another state to hunt for an escaped inmate.

That Capp allowed contributions among the employees to defray the expense of litigation resisting removal, the salary of one who refused to contribute being cut.

That Capp violated the state law in causing inmates to be whipped and "other brutal and inhuman punishment inflicted."

The governor cites one alleged incident in which he charges an inmate was chained to a heavy iron and forced to remain several hours exposed to the cold.

That Capp permitted "gross immorality to prevail" at the institution.

The action is the outcome of an executive order issued February 11 last, and subsequent litigation, whereby the governor sought to remove the warden. Capp set up various reasons for refusing the governor's order, all but one of which—that specific charges had not been made—were refused by the courts.

Railroad Head Resigns.

No reasons for the resignation were given and railroad officials would not discuss Mr. Mohler's action. He will be identified with these companies in an advisory capacity.

BRYAN SCORED AT CONFERENCE OF ARBITRATION

Speaker Declares Commoner's Presence in Cabinet Lessened World's Respect for America.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE) — Mohonk Lake, The Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration today called to order George Haven Putnam of New York, who is an ardent advocate of preparedness for an attack upon W. J. Bryan. Mr. Bryan appeared later and replied to Mr. Putnam.

Mr. Putnam declared that among other things which lessened respect for the United States throughout the world was "the presence in the cabinet of a man like William J. Bryan, who shamefully misrepresented our country in his interviews with Dumba."

Mr. Bryan reached the conference hall a few minutes after Mr. Putnam had finished.

Not Surprised, He Says.

"I am not surprised that the people should be misled," he said. "Those who have nothing but the eastern metropolitan press to rely upon are fortunate if they get the truth." "Ambassador Dumba called at the state department," she explained, "at a time when the president was in New York."

Immediately after the interview, Mr. Bryan said, he wrote out a report of what had taken place and sent it to the president and received the approval of what he had said to the Austrian ambassador. "When I heard that my interview was criticized," he continued, "I called in Mr. Dumba and read over the report and it was approved by him. The thing misinterpreted was this: I said to Dumba the fact that lives were lost in sinking ships made the controversy different from the controversy with England, which concerned only loss of trade. That was the distinction I made and it is the one that is made every time in the controversy since."

Disagrees With Taft.

Mr. Bryan dissented emphatically from the views expressed here by former President Taft favoring the League to Enforce Peace.

"If we join with Europe in enforcing peace," he said, "then we can hardly refuse to let them join in enforcing peace over here. And if I know the American people, there is no disposition here to abandon the Monroe doctrine."

His fundamental objection to the league was expressed as follows: "When we turn from moral station to force we step down and not up. I don't care to have this nation a policeman."

Mr. Bryan stated that preparedness such as is generally suggested will not prevent war but will provoke war. "If we had been as well prepared as some now ask us to be, we would be in the war now shouting for blood."

Other noted speakers tonight were Eugene Wambaugh, professor of law at Harvard university; Edward B. Krehbiel, professor of history at Lehigh-Stanford, Jr. university; Richard Barthold, formerly congressman from Missouri; and Prof. Edward A. Steiner, of Princeton college, Ia.

Francis Case, a student at Dakota Wesleyan university, won the eleven annual annual oratorical contest of the Intercollegiate Peace association today. Five college undergraduates took part in the competition, each being the winner successively in three preliminary contests—college, state and geographical group. The orations were judged the best of about 550 representing 139 colleges and universities.

GAMBLERS WORK COLUMBUS; COURT IMPOSES FINES

Officials Determined to Break Up Games of Chance at Army Post; Warning Given Men Caught in Act.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL) — Deming, N. M., May 18.—Judge Rogers' court was the scene of considerable activity this afternoon when Constable T. A. Hulsey, accompanied by Special Officer Jack Thomas, representing the government police force, brought in a bunch of nine gamblers caught red-handed by Uncle Sam's officers at Columbus.

There has been considerable of this work going on at Columbus during the last week or ten days, and Sheriff Simpson has been giving his officers instructions to round the offenders up at the first opportunity.

Judge Rogers gave the men a sharp lecture and fined them $13 apiece, which included costs. He advised them that if the gambling was continued there would be something very unpleasant for the second offense. The gamblers were all Americans, employed by the government in various military capacities. There was one colored soldier arrested with them, but he was turned over to the government for trial. Sheriff Simpson is determined to keep down all gambling and all violations of the law.

DON'T LET NERVOUSNESS RUIN YOUR HAPPINESS

VICTIMS OF NERVE SICKNESS
CADOMENE TABLETS
The Great Nerve Medicine

Nervousness deadens the brain and weakens the body. Nature needs real and harmless aid to overcome it.

Nature does her best to fight the evil effects overwork, worry, dissipation and excesses on the nervous system. She fights to the last atom of her strength but usually she has to have assistance to overcome the sluggish brain, weakened body, the sick headache, sleeplessness, flabby and degenerated muscles.

cles, that tired all in feeling, inability to act naturally, a feeling of fear, with pains in back, head and joints, general weakness, inefficiency in functioning and complete failure in realization of hopes.

For this condition Cadomene Tablets offer the safest, most prompt and reliable aid.

Cadomene Tablets are vitally necessary for rebuilding the cells of body, brain and nerve tissues. Men and women, too, who are nervous, have starved nerves, and starved devitalized nerves need the elements of Cadomene Tablets to feed them. Cadomene Tablets are a combination that is easily picked up by the digestive system and most quickly appropriated. The nerve and tissue-building properties go quickly into the circulation and reach the spot. Cadomene gets at the bottom of the weakness or trouble because it directly feeds the blood stream, because it nourishes the nerve centers, because it does these things naturally and persistently and the sum total of such action must, cannot fail to produce a general uplift of body and mind, a thorough strengthening of the body's resistive force, a regaining of vitality and endurance—in a word: Renewed and complete efficiency of body and mind. Obtain in sealed tubes with full directions from all live druggists.
